

Dr. Adele Viguera recently joined the Cleveland Clinic staff in October. Dr. Viguera served as the Associate Director of the Perinatal and Reproductive Psychiatry Clinical Research Program at Massachusetts General Hospital for ten years. She retains her appointment as Assistant Professor of Psychiatry at Harvard Medical School. Dr. Viguera will continue to lead research efforts in women's mental health at the Cleveland Clinic.

Bipolar Disorder in Pregnancy Study:

Cleveland Clinic Center for the Care and Study of Women's Mental Health is conducting a research study on Bipolar Disorder in pregnancy. Participants will receive monthly follow-up at no cost throughout pregnancy and the post-partum with psychiatrists who specialize in bipolar illness.

If you are pregnant or planning pregnancy and have been diagnosed with bipolar disorder (manic depression), you may be eligible for this research study.
